for the first time at University

Tutoring for first-year students is a service provided by University for new enrolled students: it is a support to start in the best way and avoid mistakes during the initial phase of your study career.

WHO ARE TUTORS

Tutors are last year students, who help new students in their University studies.

Tutoring is useful to make them more aware of the commitments, foreseen by the educational path, and to support a profitable courses attendance.

- Filling in the career plan, in order to avoid mistakes while choosing the exams
- Communication with teachers and students registry offices
- Evaluation of the courses (Edumeter) to take exams without problems
- Using the University platforms and online channels to keep up-to-date
- Erasmus and international mobility opportunities
- Study grants in Italy and abroad, right to study opportunities (study grants, collaboration contracts), practical training and, more generally, what helps students to combine the first work experiences with the studies
